Information about warranty & return

Send back

You have the right to cancel your order up to 14 days after receipt without giving a reason. After cancellation you have another 14 days to return your product. You will then be credited with the full order amount excluding shipping. Only the costs for return to us are for your own account unless it is an error of ours. If you use this, the product with all supplied accessories and - if reasonably possible - in the original condition and packaging must be returned to us. To exercise this right of return, we ask you to complete this return form and send it with the package. We will then refund the order amount due within 14 days of receiving your return, provided the product has been returned in good condition.
